DEATH CAME VERY SUD-DENLY TO B. Z. JUSTICE.

Bascom Z. Justice, an employee of the lower furnace, died very suddenly Sunday afternoon, his death being due to heart trouble. Mr. Justice had worked from six o'clock Saturday evening until Sunday noon and after he had eaten his dinner lay down on a bed to rest. In a few minutes he complained of not feeling well and before medical assistance could arrive he was dead. Coroner Skowpe was summoned and made an investigation.

The deceased was thirty-six years of age and had apparently been in good health. He is survived by his wife and a young child.

The body was shipped to Louisa Tuesday morning for burial—Ashland Independent.

The son was accepted and was sent to Fort Thomas.

PERCIVAL CRUTCHER.

The following appeared in the Covington, Ky. items in last Sunday's Enquirer:

The marriage of Miss Dora Percival, formerly of this city, and Mr. Robert Crutcher, of Holden, Va., will be celebrated Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Percival, at Elklick. The wedding, which was to have been an event of June, was hastened a few weeks owing to the fact that the groom-elect is a member of the Reserve Corps of West Virginia and expects to be called to service at any time. The bride, who is a great favorite, is being much feted. Mrs. Massie Elliott entertained Wednesday with a beautiful luncheon at her home in Hyde Park in compliment to her. Saturday afternoon Miss Dottie Macklin gave a theater party in her honor and Monday evening her sister, Mrs. Frank Vesmer, of Wallace place, entertains with a dinner in compliment to her and Mr. Crutcher.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Crutcher, of Holden, Va., both of whom are natives of Louisa and have many relatives here. Robert is a fine young man in every particular. He has proved his ability as a business man and has a bright future. He has visited Louisa occasionally. Many persons here feel an interest in his welfare and their best wishes will follow him and his bride.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS SUD-DITH IS ANNOUNCED.

The following from the Richmond, Virginia, Journal, of last Saturday will be of interest to a number of our readers. Mrs. Suddith was Miss Lute Ferguson, the daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. Milton J. Ferguson, of this city. Rev. Suddith is a Baptist minister and with his family lived in Louisa and Ashland a number of years before moving to Virginia.

Rev. and Mrs. Louisa H. Suddith, of Quinton, New Kent-co., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ruby Ringo Means, to Mr. Harrison Thompson Rainbridge, of Trenton, N. Pastors of the Methodist church, South, who go to war, will go at the direction of Bishop McCoy and two other bishops. These ecclesiastical authorities recently forwarded to the President a statement tendering the services of as many pastors for chaplains as the executive should see fit to call. After the needs are made known to the bishops by the Washington authorities, the bishops in turn, will select those they desire to go.

THE KENTUCKY CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY

WANTS HOMES FOR 219 CHILDREN NOW UNDER THEIR CARE.

To the friends of the Kentucky Children's Home Society:

In the present grave crisis of our country, we must face the unusual conditions caused by the war, and use every means to reduce the high cost of living, which is becoming a burden not only to the wage-earner, but also to the salaried man.

We do not know how long this war will last, but we do know that it will drain our country of her splendid young men. So many of them, from the farms as well as from the city, will respond to the call of their country, that there will be a scarcity of labor, especially on the farm, during the next few years, and we must be prepared to meet these conditions.

For their own protection, farmers should avail themselves of every opportunity to secure help on their farms, which, they admit, is already hard to get. For mercenary reason, if for no other, farmers will want sufficient hands to take care of their crops, but we know our farmers are just as patriotic as the men who go to the front.

We feel that we can help the farmers to solve their problem of securing help during the coming years, and they can help us by taking our boys and girls into their homes.

We have 219 wards here in the Receiving Home, whose ages range from a few months to 18 years; approximately:

10 girls, 2 years and under.
11 girls, 3 years to 6 years.
36 girls, 7 years to 13 years.
11 girls, 14 years to 18 years.
21 boys, 2 years and under.
48 boys, 3 years to 6 years.
58 boys, 7 years to 9 years.
17 boys, 10 years to 12 years.

Many of our children are as bright and attractive as any one could wish; we have others who have some slight defect, but who are capable of being trained to do their share of work in the home or on the farm.

A large number of our children are too young now to render much service, but in a few years hence they will be of great value to those people who are generous enough and far-sighted enough to avail themselves of getting a child, who in a short time will become attached to its new home, and will be of great value to its foster parents.

A farm without a boy is not complete, and farmers' wives too, need helpers. We always prefer to place our wards in small towns and country homes.

Every application will be attended to as quickly as possible. Address all letters to GEO. L. SEHON, Superintendent Kentucky Children's Home Society, 1086 Baxter Ave., Louisville, Ky.

CANS BOUGHT FOR OUR CANNING CLUBS

PUBLIC SPIRITED BUSINESS MEN ADVANCE THE MONEY TO INSURE A SUPPLY.

Some of the business men of Louisa have come to the rescue of the girls' canning clubs of Lawrence county in the matter of insuring a supply of tin cans. Through Dixon, Moore & Co., wholesale grocers, an order was placed Monday for nearly 25,000 cans. This represents a cash outlay in the future of more than $1200.00, but it was necessary to place the order before May 15th. After that date it was reported there would be no cans for sale this season by the factories. Nearly all the tin used for plating the material used in the manufacture of cans comes from England and the war has almost stopped its importation.

Nobody in Louisa or Lawrence county will make one cent of profit on the cans. The girls will get them at actual cost and will be permitted to pay for them in canned goods at the market price. Contracts will be prepared to this effect for those who desire to avail themselves of this opportunity. The needs of canning club members will be supplied first. The goods put up by these girls will be strictly in accordance with the government formula and can therefore be depended upon to be of uniform quality. The attractive feature of this arrangement is that the merchants, both wholesale and retail, know they are safe in recommending the quality of these goods.

Miss Davis, the County Agent, will handle the orders for cans wanted by the girls. Mrs. Jonas, of Louisville, was here Friday and Saturday and spoke to the meeting of business men in regard to purchasing the cans.

MRS. JONAS.

Mrs. Margaret D. Jonas, District Agent of Western Kentucky, of Home Demonstration work, has been given supervision of Lawrence and Boyd counties, the work just being started in Boyd county last week.

Miss Chinn, District Agent of Eastern Kentucky, had Lawrence county during last year and up until this time, but when Boyd county came in, it gave her fifteen counties to supervise and Mrs. Jonas only twelve, so in order to even the work Mrs. Jonas was given both Lawrence and Boyd counties. While we regret to give up Miss Chinn, as she is very efficient and highly intelligent, with a most pleasing personality, we are glad to claim Mrs. Jonas again. She had the supervision of Lawrence county during its pioneer days of 1915, and made the first speech ever made by a woman to the Lawrence County Fiscal Court asking for appropriation for this work.

In getting Mrs. Jonas again we are not only going to have one of the foremost workers of Home Demonstration work in the South, but a lady possessing the highest type of wisdom, culture and experience.

Mrs. Jonas said had she been told that Lawrence county had made the strides of progress in all lines of agriculture, and especially in Home Demonstration work, that it has, she could not have believed it and would have said it is impossible to have one hundred girls enrolled in the work for 1917, but after she had seen only a part of the work of the county she was fully convinced of its standing.

From Mrs. Jonas we expect to get the best and first attention and under her supervision climb up several rounds of our new ladder.

$76,000 FOR KENTUCKY.

Washington, May 15.—Loans to farmers by the Federal Land banks have passed the $1,000,000 mark and are being made at the rate of $150,000 a day. If the present rate of increase keeps up the Farm Loan Board estimates the total loans during May at $2,000,000.

Kentucky, $76,000, and Virginia, $23,450, are among the loans.

The board estimates loans during the first year of its operation will exceed $150,000,000. The first issue of farm loan bonds, it was announced to-day, will be placed on the market within a month of six weeks.

THE APPEAL TO CAESAR.

The entertainment given Friday and Saturday nights at the Masonic Hall was a very creditable affair. About 40 young people took part. Elaborate costumes for the time of Paul were imported for the occasion and added greatly to the effect of the play, "The Appeal to Caesar." As specialties Miss Gladys Atkins sang very pleasingly, and some tiny boy scouts gave an acrobatic performance. Little Miss Esther Bostwick sang a selection very sweetly.

Good audiences enjoyed each performance. The net proceeds go to the M. E. Church.

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICES.

Mothers Day was observed generally in the churches of Louisa last Sunday. Sermons were preached on the subject and elegant tributes were paid to mothers, both in the Sunday school and church services. The churches were decorated with snowballs and other flowers and nearly all in attendance wore flowers in honor and memory of their mothers.

WILL BE MARRIED AT JENKINS.

Ironton, May 12.—The wedding of Mr. Thomas Sylvester Kinney and Miss Nora Elizabeth Nugent is to take place next week at the bride's home, Jenkins, Ky. The banns for the wedding have been read at the St. Lawrence church.

YOUNG LEITER HAS COME BACK IN WHEAT.

Chicago, Ill.—Joseph Leiter, who with his father is reputed to have lost ten million dollars in trying to corner the world's wheat supply in 1898 has "come back" in May wheat, it was reported to-day.

Leiter's earnings in the last few months are estimated at three million dollars by persons in close touch with wheat pit operations. He is said to have been secretly in the market since August 2, 1916, when May wheat sold at $1.27. Yesterday it reached $3.15 the highest figure in history.

Acting on a tip that the government would intervene in the food situation, Leiter is said to have been selling recently at enormous profits. His agents, as fast as they disposed of May delivery, are alleged to have been buying July and September. Agents of the allies principally Great Britain, are also said to have cleaned up between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 in the Chicago pit.

LAYMEN'S UNION MASS MEETING SUNDAY NIGHT.

His company has taken a contract to build seven miles of road in McDowell-co., and will start the work at once. George Roberts will be in immediate charge there. Mr. Carey went from Louisa to Welch Tuesday to complete preliminary arrangements.

CUTTING AFFAIR MAY HAVE FATAL END

COUSINS NEAR CLIFFORD HAVE SERIOUS DIFFICULTY WHILE INTOXICATED.

A cutting scrape occurred last week on Lick Branch of Tug river in Martin county which is expected to result fatally to one of the participants, Edgar Branham is the victim and Marvin Endicott is charged with having stabbed him. The young men are cousins and were alone at the time of the trouble. Both are said to have been under the influence of liquor, which is all the explanation needed to account for the serious affray. At last account Branham's condition was considered dangerous. They are sons of Ballard Branham and Gabriel Endicott.

A REAL PATRIOT.

Franklin, Ky., May 14.—Across the Tennessee line, near Rapids, in this county, lives a farmer, Cyrus Shultz, for whom the Federal Government need never trouble to appoint a Food Control Committee. When corn advanced to $10 per barrel Mr. Shultz refused to sell a grain except to those who needed it for bread and then he would accept only $2.50 per barrel, or 50 cents per bushel. Already he has disposed of half his surplus at the figure quoted and absolutely refuses to sell to those who would feed hogs or cattle for speculative purposes. He could have sold the entire quantity for $1,000, but already has allowed many of his poor neighbors to cart away a bushel upon their promise to pay.

Mr. Shultz is a small farmer and possessed of only moderate means.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN TUG RIVER VALLEY

THE VICTIMS ARE CHARLEY AND DAVE MOUNTS, RELATED TO LAWRENCE-CO. CITIZENS.

In an altercation Saturday night, Charlie Mounts struck Dave Mounts with a Winchester rifle and knocked him down, and after a few moments Dave raised to his knees and shot Charlie five times with a pistol, either of which would have caused instant death, it is stated; and about the time he fired the fifth shot, a man by the name of Hunt, a son-in-law of Charlie Mounts, shot and instantly killed Dave Mounts; and then made good his escape in the wildwoods of Kentucky. They were close relatives and neighbors and the dispute arose at the milk gap over some minor differences between the daughter of Charlie Mounts and the wife of Dave Mounts.—Williamson News.

MAGOFFIN COUNTY OIL FIELD.

N. P. Howard and his associates brought in their well No. 2 on the N. P. Salyer lease on Burning Fork which proved to be good for ten barrels natural, and will be shot. This well showed 62 feet of good sand, of which 11 feet was pay. Arrangements are being made to pump these wells, and the machinery has been placed on the H. J. Cain farm near Salyersville on Mr. Howard's lease, and this is expected to come in about Wednesday or Thursday.

This is a shallow field running from 130 to 180 feet, and it is expected to prove as good an El Dorado as the Estill county field. So much faith have Mr. Howard and his associates that on Saturday they located another rig and commenced to drill on the Dr. W. A. May farm just outside the town limits on State Road Fork. These two rigs will be kept busy testing this shallow field.—Paintsville Post.

Chapman, of Huntington, and grand son of W. S. Chapman, who is a lifelong resident of this section whose influence and christian spirit have been a blessing.

$20,000 FOR BEST METHOD OF CHARACTER EDUCATION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Washington, May 12.—A prize of $20,000 for the best method of character education in public schools will be offered as a supplement to the $5,000 prize for the best children's code of morals, already under competition under the auspices of the National Institute for Moral Instruction.

The money has been given by a business man whose name will not be disclosed. The competition will begin Washington's birthday, 1918, and continue for a year. Each State will be asked to organize a team of nine character education collaborators to compete for the prize. BIRTH DAY DINNER OF MRS. VICTORIA WILLIAMSON.

Another one of those pleasant events in the life of Mrs. Victoria Williamson, took place last Saturday at the home of her son, Mr. H. T. Williamson, this city. It was the birthday of this venerable and respected lady and quite a large number of her friends and relatives were present to honor her in the passing of another mile stone in the history of her useful and well spent life. There is no one in our community more respected than Mrs. Williamson and it always a great pleasure to chronicle these pleasing events in her life. She has always been one of our most charitable and exemplary women and we wish her many happy days.—Williamson News.

CHALLENGE TO INVENTORS.

The submarine which is causing such annoyance to our allies is our invention; so is the torpedo with which it accomplishes its deadly business. We are equally responsible for the machine guns which make open fighting and assault such bloody work, and for the barbed wire upon which our German friends make a point of receiving Tommy Atkins and the pollu when they call at his trenches.

The airplane which has so eliminated surprise in warfare that it is to-day possible for the veriest ingenu in military affairs to look with laughing condescension upon the spectacle of Napoleon, defeated at Waterloo because he was in ignorance of important troop movement a few miles away—this, too, is ours. Devices so radically opposed in their aims as the explosive projectile and the armored ship owe their origin and much of their development to the American mind.

Under the circumstances, then, it is not at all out of place to look to American invention to do its bit toward bringing the war to a successful conclusion.—Scientific American.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Mother's Day.

Sunday, May 13, was "Mother's Day" in the United States. From ocean to ocean it was fittingly celebrated. As a matter of fact every day in the year should be "Mother's Day." Every day in the year we should show our mothers every mark of honor possible. These mothers have sacrificed much for us and given us their love and best thoughts. The debt we owe to them can never be paid.

Abraham Lincoln's mother died when he was ten years old. His father then married a widow. This step-mother and not his father recognized the natural ability of her stepson. Borrowed books for him to read and bought others out of her hard earned pennies. Every child has heard of Abraham Lincoln, but how few could tell the name of his step-mother, and yet only for the loving kindness of this step-mother Lincoln would probably never have been known outside of the county in which he lived. Her name was Mrs. Sally Johnston, nee Bush.

Edison was educated at his mother's knee. A few years at a country school completed that education. Caesar was educated by his mother, Aurelia. The mother of Cardinal Gibbons was left in early life a widow, penniless and with six children to care for. Napoleon's father was a busy Italian farmer. His Corsican mother made him the conqueror of Europe. Henry Ford's father wanted him to be a farmer, but his loving mother detected his ability in mending broken tools and her influence made him a machinist. It is hard to find a man of any note, whose success cannot be traced to his mother, and yet these mothers are seldom mentioned by the public press. One wiser than we has said, "Show me a great man and I will show you a great mother."

The years roll on, mother dearest, that bring me nearer to you, but you have never seemed very far away. The wheels of time have left their tracks on all about us, but your dear face has remained just the same.

That you said to us and the memories of what you did for us come back to our children in the silent seasons of the night and the busy hours of the day, and never is there a sickness or trial nor a joy that you are not present in some form.

More than a thousand times since you have journeyed on we have said if only Mother were here as of old that we might say the word and do the thing we postponed or forgot.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

I cannot name any time, day or place when I was converted. It was my mother's steady and constant influence that led me gradually along, and I grew into a religious life under her potent training, and by the power of the Holy Spirit working through her agency. I feel now that the happy fifty-six years that I spent in the glorious ministry of the gospel of redemption is the direct outcome of that beloved mother's prayers, teaching, example, and holy influence.

THEODORE L. CUYLER.

My mother! It was she who put her arms around us when father died. It was she who made it possible for us to have even the small comforts of life, and when we were so poor that we scarcely had food to eat or fire to warm us it was she who protected us. All that is good in my life, I think, has come from her; and I have never come near Northfield that I have not found myself walking nervously up and down the aisle of the car, anxious to reach home, that I might see my mother.

DWIGHT L. MOODY.

The simple gospel of the humble carpenter, preached by the twelve fishermen, has survived the centuries, and outlives all other philosophies of eighteen hundred years. I am not versed in the terminology of philosophies. I believe them to be of little use to reach the hearts and to influence the action of simple men. * * * The simple faith of my mother is good enough for me. If we believe this faith, what harm if we disbelieve it and thereby do wrong what of our future?

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

Mother love * * * bath this unlikeliness to any other love: Tender to the object, it can be infinitely tyrannical to itself, and thence all its power of self-sacrifice.

LEW WALLACE.

The woman's task is not easy—no task worth doing is easy—but in doing it, and when she has done it, there shall come to her the highest and holiest joy known to mankind; and having done it, she shall have the reward prophesied in Scripture; for her husband and her children, yes and all people who realize that her work lies at the very foundation of all national happiness and greatness, shall rise up and call her blessed.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

In the heavens above, The angels, whispering to one another, Can find among their luring terms of love None so devotional as that of "Mother."

EDGAR ALLAN POE.

I remember my mother's prayers—and they have always followed me. They have clung to me all my life.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

My mother she's so good to me, if I was good as I could be, I couldn't be as good, no sir; can't any boy be good as her.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before."

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

The doctor's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

Hero of Ticonderoga

With one impulse the colonies sprang to arms; with one spirit they pledged themselves to each other "to be ready for the extreme event" with one accord and heart the continent cried, "Liberty or Death." —George Bancroft.

The bloody encounter at Lexington in 1775 fired the blood of the patriots and filled them with burning desire to do some heroic deed in defense of the colonies.

Word reached Col. Ethan Allen to raise the Green Mountain boys and if possible surprise and take the fortress of Ticonderoga. Eager for such exploit he rallied 230 of the valiant mountain boys and on the ninth day of May, 1775, succeeded in getting a few boats and transported 83 men across the lake, and sent the boats back for the rest of the men. But day now began to dawn and Colonel Allen realized that if the attempt against the fort were to succeed he and his daring expedition must act at once.

Nothing daunted by the fact that their force was so few, and making up in patriotic devotion what they lacked in numbers, Colonel Allen called for volunteers for the perilous venture. "I do not urge any to enter on this enterprise contrary to his will, inasmuch as it is a desperate attempt, which none but the bravest of men dare undertake," cried Colonel Allen. "You that will undertake voluntarily, poise your firelock." Every man poised his firelock.

He immediately formed them into line and at their head advanced on the gate of the fortress. The sentry snapped his fuse at the colonel and then retreated to the parade within the garrison. Allen and his men quickly followed and formed in the parade. The garrison was asleep—all but the sentries who did not fully sense what was transpiring. Allen, and his men gave three huzzas, and one of the sentries made a pass at one of the men with a charged bayonet and slightly wounded him.

Allen was about to run him through with his sword but thought better of it and only slightly wounded him on the head whereon he dropped his gun and begged for quarter. This granted he showed Colonel Allen the officers' quarters whither the intrepid commander rushed and compelled the commander, Captain Delaplace, to come forth and deliver over the entire garrison on threat of putting the entire force to the sword.

"By what authority?" demanded Captain Delaplace.

"In the name of the Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress," thundered Allen, as he raised his sword over Delaplace's head. In the meantime the Green Mountain boys had not been idle but had beaten down the barracks doors and had about a third of the garrison prisoners. With stunted expostulation the commander forthwith submitted and the fort was completely in the hands of Colonel Allen, who in his own account of the exploit says:

"The sun seemed to rise that morning with a superior luster, and Ticonderoga and its dependencies smiled on its conquerors."

DYING FOR ONE'S COUNTRY

"Death Never Comes Too Soon, if Necessary in Defense of Our Country."—Story.

It was Nathan Hale who said, "I regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." And it is Horace that makes one of his heroes say: "It is sweet and glorious to die for one's country." There have been many and striking illustrations of this in our country's history. It is said that the untimely fate of Col. Owen Roberts, who fell at Stono, was cause of universal regret. He was an inflexible patriot, an excellent disciplinarian, and enthusiastic in pursuit of military fame. His son, who was in the action, hearing of his misfortune, hastened to him. The expiring veteran perceiving in his countenance the liveliest sorrow, addressed him with great composure: "I rejoice, my boy, once again to see and to embrace you. Receive this sword, which has never been tarnished by dishonor, and let it not be inactive while the liberty of our country is endangered. Take my last adieu, accept my blessings, and return to your duty."

THE SWORD OF WASHINGTON

The sword of Washington. The staff of Franklin. Oh, sir, what associations are linked with these names! Washington—whose sword, as my friend has said, was never drawn but in the cause of his country, and never sheathed when wielded in his country's cause. Franklin—the philosopher of the thunderbolt, the printing press, and the plow share.—John Quincy Adams.

To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace.—Washington.

He who loathes war, and will do everything in his power to avert it, but who will, in the last extremity, encounter its perils, from love of country and of home—who is willing to sacrifice himself, and all that is dear to him in life, to promote the well-being of his fellowman, will ever receive a worthy homage.—Abbott.

THIS MOTHER GAVE HER ALL

Touching Incident of Sacrifice on the Altar of Her Country's Need.

One of the touching incidents of General Lyons' march to Wilson creek was that of a Tennessee mother bringing her little boy to the captain's tent and offering him for the service of his country. The boy's father had been killed in battle and the mother and boy were alone in the world. The bright eyes' and alert bearing of the little chap, for he was scarcely thirteen years of age, caught the eye of the captain and he asked what the boy could do. "I can drum," he said proudly stretching himself to his full height. And he could as the fife soon found out as he played "The Flowers of Edinborough," a most difficult piece to follow with the drum. "Madam, I'll take the boy," said the captain. The mother kissed her boy and turning to the captain said: "Bring him back, captain," and to the boy she said as she placed her hand on his eager little head, "God bless you, my boy. You're all I have left, but I give you to my country, and drum right bravely for the boys in blue." During the heavy fatiguing marches from Rolla to Springfield it was amusing to see the long-legged fife wading through the mud with our little drummer hero mounted on his back. During the fight at Wilson creek the cheery fife and brave drum beat time for the soldier boys in battle. The fight led down into a deep ravine and it was not long before our drummer boy was in the midst of the fray. That night the detail on guard duty near the ravine thought he heard faintly the sound of a drum. He listened in the moonlight and when the relief came he asked permission to go in search of the little drummer lad. He followed the sound of the drum and soon found our hero seated on the ground with his back against a tree and his faithful drum hanging on a bush. He dropped his drum sticks as the guard came up and exclaimed: "Oh, corporal, I am so glad to see you. Give me a drink," and as he turned to go to get him water, he pleaded: "Oh, don't go and leave me. I can't walk." His little legs had been shot off at the knees. Looking closer he discovered a dead soldier lying in the grass, but evidently before he died he had put a tourniquet about the stumps of the little legs. The brave lad was carried into camp and given surgical attention, but the brave little spirit went out into the brightness and glory of a duty well done and a country served even unto death.

CLUSTER OF PATRIOTIC GEMS

Eloquent Tributes of Daniel Webster to Our Country's Needs and Greatness.

Liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable.

Let our object be our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country.

If we are true to our country in our day and generation, and those who come after us shall be true to it also, assuredly we shall elevate her to a pitch of prosperity and happiness, of honor and power never yet reached by any nation beneath the sun.

This lovely land, this glorious liberty, these benign institutions, the dear purchase of our fathers, are ours; ours to enjoy, ours to preserve, ours to transmit. Generations past and generations to come hold us responsible for this sacred trust.

A fleet of U. S. torpedo boat destroyers has crossed the Atlantic and is now actively at work in the submarine zone.

The present season has been unusually backward for farmers, just at the time when all are trying to double the products of the farms. Such a continuous spell of cold weather in April and May has never before been experienced in this latitude.

Congress has agreed that the age of conscription for the army shall be 21 to 30 inclusive. The two branches have also agreed on a provision that will permit Col. Roosevelt to raise a volunteer army and take it to Europe.

The section regarding pay as agreed to by the conferees provides that all officers and enlisted men of the forces to be raised by conscription shall have the same pay, allowances and pensions as the regular army, and makes these increases in the pay of enlisted regulars; those receiving $15 to $21 per month, an increase of $15 per month; those receiving $25, an increase of $12; those receiving $30, $36 or $40, an increase of $8 and those receiving $45 or more, an increase of $2.

Russia is passing through a great period of uncertainty and unrest, with German agents doing everything in their power to add to the trouble. The new government is not yet fairly established. The President has appointed a commission headed by Elihu Root to go to Russia to assist in establishing the republic. Financial aid will be extended to whatever extent may appear to be necessary. The tremendous task of changing the form of government so radically, and especially with a large war on hands, is enough to stagger almost any set of men. 90,000-000 persons in Russia are said to be unable to read. Russia owns one-seventh of the world's land and its population constitutes one-sixth of the inhabitants of the earth. If Germany should succeed in her efforts to make a separate peace with Russia the task of crushing the Kaiser and his monstrous ambition to rule the world would be greatly increased. The United States would be called upon to send millions of men to Europe if this should happen.

Col. J. H. Northup, one mile from Walbridge station, near the school building of this district. Mr. Booth, of Chasing, has charge of the work and expects to move his family here soon.

JUST GOT OVER A COLD?

Look out for kidney troubles and backache. Colds overtax the kidneys and often leave them weak. For weak kidneys—well, read what a Louisa man says:

K. F. Vinson, Water St., Louisa, says: "Whenever I have had a spell of kidney trouble or rheumatic twinges, I have bought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They have removed the pains from my back and have driven the rheumatic twinges from my limbs. My back has sometimes been lame when I have over lifted and I have been subject to rheumatic twinges after taking cold. The trouble has generally been in my limbs, from my hips down, just like sciatica. My kidneys have acted too frequently, bothering me at night by causing me to arise often. All of these symptoms have disappeared after I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and I have felt like a different person, strong and active."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Vinson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

TUBERCULOSIS COMMISSION.

According to statistics about 5,000 people died in Kentucky of tuberculosis in 1916. 37 in this county. By the observance of very simple rules of treatment a large majority of these lives might have been saved, the cures, when cases are taken in time showing nearly 85 to 100. To awaken public sentiment to the importance of combating the disease, the Tuberculosis Commission, with headquarters at Frankfort will wage a most vigorous campaign to educate the masses to the fact that consumption is no longer regarded as a necessarily fatal disease but is both curable and preventable. In this endeavor citizens of every phase are urged to help and Kentucky will no longer suffer from the fact that there are more deaths from consumption in it yearly than in any other state, population considered.

Dr. W. L. Helzer, executive secretary of the commission will gladly furnish any information on the care and treatment of the disease and with the assistance of your physician insure you of cure if it is taken in time and

Plenty of fresh air, diet as prescribed by a physician, cleanliness and the observance of simple health rules have cured thousands of cases of tuberculosis. Do not despair but communicate at once with the Tuberculosis Commission at Frankfort.

VERSE IS OLD MAN'S "BIT."

Sixty years ago in a little red school house in Orange, Willie Graves learned by heart for the Friday afternoon "piece speaking" a little poem on thrift. A little later came the Civil war, during which high prices gave the poem a special application. So it became a part of every week's ritual in the red school house for Willie Graves and his fellow scholars to rise and gravely repeat the poem on thrift in unison—like church folk in a responsive reading. Willie Graves learned the poem so well that he could never forget it.

Now the other day Willie Graves, whom time has transformed into Willard A. Graves, a white-haired business man, fell to pondering the question of how a stoutish, short of breath old fellow could do his "bit" in the great "national emergency." And all at once he recalled the poem. He thought, if it had an application in Civil war times, it must have at least ten times as much application now. So he has caused the verse to be thrown on the screen at a popular movie theater. It reads: I must not throw upon the floor the crust I will not eat. For many hungry little ones would think it quite a treat. For willful waste makes woeful want and I may live to say, "Oh, how I wish I had the bread that once I threw away."

America, America, where is your manhood gone?
Who taught your sons to brag and run, who taught your sons to favor?
Who taught your sons to whine of peace with quaking
coward knees,
And fling in panic to the wolves your hard-won liberties?

America, America, where is your glory fled?
What of the dreams what of the deeds, what of the noble dead?
What of the swords that flashed for you, what of the tongues that spoke?
What of the hearts that bled for you, what of the hearts that broke?

America, America, remember now your dead!
They cry to you across the night and will not be gainsaid!
Arm, arm, arise, America! Glad for your sword once more!
The ice is at the harbor-mouth, the ice is on your shore!

Awake, arise, America! What cries are in the air?
Hark, the clear word of Washington! The call of Lincoln there!
Cleveland, and there, John Hancock! There, Adams,
Webster, Clay!
There, Patrick Henry! There, John Brown! There, Jackson, Lee, John Hay!

Arise, America! Your dead cry out to you, Arise!
Grant, Schuyler, Marshall, Marion! The brave call and the wise!
Paul Jones, Decatur, Perry! McDonough of Champlain!
Arise, America, and stand! A race of men again!

You were not meant to cringe, you were not made to quail.

You were not set a lamp for men, to flare and gutter and fail!
By God, we did not give our blood to set your light on high.
Only to see a craven band slothfully let it die!

No, by the God we honor! To Whom alone we bow!
We did not die for Freedom then, to let her perish now!
Arm, arm, arise, America! Put by the craven dread!
We come, we come to the colors! We come, the invincible dead!

Arm, arm, arise, For your dead cannot sleep in the old,
green graves!

Liberty cries, imperiled! And we dead rise up from the waves!

Muste the strength of the living! Ten to one are we!
Ten ghosts behind each valiant boy who strikes for Liberty!

Arm, arm, arise, America! Heart of my land, be flamed!
An end of words and barter! An end of sloth and shame!

Hark, how the old heroic ghosts to deathless deeds invite!

If you are cowards, perish! But if you are men, then fight!

ONION OR POTATO

Given as Premium With Purchases in New York and Brooklyn.

New York, May 14.—In parts of the city where the trading stamp was popular before the advent of war prices the onion and potato have been substituted as bait for patronage by grocers and fruit dealers.

In the Ridgebrook part of Brooklyn a small potato or onion is given with each ten-cent purchase. At this rate of profit-sharing it is estimated that a thrifty housewife who buys in large quantities may carry home as trade premiums potatoes sufficient for a meal.

Motion-picture houses, also have adopted the scheme, giving an onion or potato with each adult ticket.

OBITUARY.

On Thursday, April 19, 1917, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rayburn and took from them their darling little baby, Robert, age two months and four days, a bright, sweet and loving child. While its stay here on earth was short and its suffering great we should not weep for him for he is only sleeping, sleeping safely in the arms of Jesus, so let us all live like unto this little child that when the time comes for us to go we may cross over the Jordan and enter safely through the pearly gates and clasp to our breast this tiny little form never to part with him again. His death was due to whooping cough. Weep not for him, dear father and mother, brothers and sister, but just live so as to meet him on that eternal shore.

There's a pair of little hands
Laid to rest forever more,
And two poorly dimpled cheeks,
Whose rich blossoming is o'er.
Death has sealed two little eyes
That will no more smile or weep.
Tiny windows of the soul
Little baby's gone to sleep.
He will wake in fairer lands,
Where the angels voices sing,
There the flowers shall expand
There shall love perfection bring.
He has reached the golden shore,
Through the river cold and deep,
Angels bore him safely o'er
Little baby's gone to sleep.
He was laid to rest in the Christian cemetery, Rev. Jake Puckett had charge of the funeral. A FRIEND.

OBITUARY.

Susie Miller, wife of John C. Miller, was born February the 25th, 1855, and died May the 13th, 1917, age 32 years, two months and 13 days. She leaves to mourn her death her husband and two children, Billy, 12, and Ivory 7. Five others preceded her to the better world. Also, she leaves her father and a step-mother and seven brothers and two sisters and quite a number of relatives and friends. She was the daughter of the Rev. A. H. Miller and she was a good christian woman. She sought and found the Lord precious to her soul several years ago. She was a member of the M. P. Church in the class at her home on Mead Branch and was a faithful member until the good Lord took her home to dwell in the house not made with hands, and with loved ones gone on before. Everything was done that willing hands could do to keep her with us, but she had to go. She suffered a long time with a lung trouble that brought her to her death. She bore her suffering with great patience and when the end came she looked up and said, "Praise the Lord! Now Lord take he home."
She was laid to rest in the E. H. Judd graveyard beside her children to await the resurrection morn.
The preachers who attended and gave a talk were the Rev. A. L. Moore and Rev. George Friley and Rev. G. Miller and the order of Red Men very beautifully performed their part, her husband being a member. A.H.M.

OBITUARY.

On Tuesday, May 1, 1917, the death angel visited the home of Thornton Moore of Mattie and claimed for its victim his loving wife, Lizzie Moore. All was done for her that loving hands could do, but all in vain. She had been in poor health for some time with the dreadful disease, tuberculosis, but bore her sufferings patiently. She was 59 years old and the mother of seven children, four boys and one girl survive her. She was laid to rest on the hill overlooking the home. The burial was largely attended.

She was converted early in life and lived a devoted christian until death. A short time before she died she called her friends and relatives around her and ask them to meet her in heaven. The eyes that sparkled with love and light are closed here on earth forever and her smiles are seen no more, but she is smiling more brightly in the paradise of God.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or callouses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callous stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callous dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callous from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a small bottle for you.

HOME SONG.

Dr. E. S. Lewis

(Tune, "My Old Kentucky Home")
I am far from my home, and the way is growing long.
A pilgrim, a stranger, I must roam:
No place for me where the merry-makers throng.
No rest where mortal sorrows come.
I have climbed the rugged mountains where no pathway led my feet,
I have toiled o'er the desert's hottest sands,
I have sailed on the sea when wild storms in fury beat,
I have pitched my moving tent in many lands.

Chorus

Sing, my soul rejoicing, a song of home to-day—
Of thy Father's house where the many mansions be,
On the shining hills of glory far away,
There are memories dear of my childhood's golden days,
They are shining in the twilight of the years;
There are lingering voices calling me from long untrodden ways,
Their music melts my sadness into tears.
In the lordly halls of feasting whence the brave and bright have fled,
There are dusky phantoms gliding slow;
The fields of martial glory are the chambers of the dead,
And the winds chant their dirges long and low.

I shall rest no more in the fading dreams of time,
I must have what their joys can ne'er bestow;
Let me press my pilgrim way, the Mount of Vision let me climb,
There is glory gleaming yonder—let me go!
I can see the Holy City whose foundations sure remain,
The homes where the saints forever dwell;
I can hear familiar voices; I shall find my friends again:
"Fare thee well, delusive world—a long farewell!"

The first rendition in the State of Kentucky of the above song was on May 14, 1916, by the quartette of Union Church, Covington, following the League Anniversary address given by Dr. Lewis.

Train service was resumed to Hellier Thursday morning.

Whooping Cough Is Dangerous; Protect Your Children!

Whooping cough is certainly a germ disease, but nothing is known of the germ that causes it. The germs are undoubtedly in the saliva and in the discharges from the nose. The incubation period is usually from four to fourteen days, but it may be as long as three weeks, and the "whoop" may not show itself for some time after the commencement of the disease. Whooping cough is highly infectious from the beginning, and anyone who is thought to be taking it should not be allowed to be in school. As a general rule, a child may be permitted to return to school in six weeks after the beginning of the whoop, provided the severe coughing spells have ceased.

Whooping cough is not usually supposed to be very dangerous, and often cases of it are not carefully quarantined. As a consequence, it is a widespread disease and causes more deaths than scarlet fever, and small pox combined—more than any of the other common infectious diseases of the children from whooping cough, and even purposely expose them to it.

This is a most peculiar practice, for more than four fifths of all deaths from whooping cough are among children under two years of age. The older a child is, the better he resists the disease, and adults usually either escape it altogether or have a mild attack.

Quarantining is very important in cases of whooping cough. Many persons think that every one must have the more common infectious diseases sooner or later, and often make no attempt to check the spread of these diseases. The consequence is that some of these rather mild diseases cause many more deaths than any other disease that we regard as much more important. This is especially true of whooping cough, and in this disease quarantine should be enforced with the greatest strictness. It is no more difficult to control whooping cough than it is to control certain other diseases that have been almost stamped out and there is no reason why it should be allowed to run unchecked.

Spitting A Dangerous Habit.

Spitting on the floors, sidewalks, in the station, post office, stores or similar places is a habit that is most dangerous to the health of a community. When tuberculosis germs are left in such a place, they are sure to be carried into houses on shoes and trailing skirts. They are blown about in the air in dust, they are carried by flies, and in many other ways they are spread where they cause sickness and death. Not more than half the people who have tuberculosis germs in their mouths know it, and no one should spit on the walk or pathway or public building and similar places or private house.

German Spy Suspect In Hellier; Taken In Custody By Authorities.

More than ordinary excitement prevailed in Hellier last Friday afternoon when a man that gave his name as Sol Crandall, address as Brooklyn, N. Y., was suspected of being a German spy. Great suspicion was aroused. It is said, when he visited the power houses and looking over their equipment. He was immediately taken into custody by the Hellier officers and his identity determined. It is said he was ordered to pull off his shoes, also turn the inside of his hat out in the search of papers. It is reported that no documents or other papers were found on him to indicate that he was a German spy. He had a suit case along with him and this was thoroughly inspected; some of his papers indicated that he represented a land agency in Washington, D. C. After a severe grilling, and after the officers satisfying themselves that he was not a spy, as far as they could see, he was permitted to leave, which he did, promptly on the next train. Any hostile acts done in Hellier against the United States, and any persons caught in the acts will be severely dealt with according to law.

Col. Lampton Post Cards Cohen.

My Compliments, Old Top, to him. That gentleman and scholar. Who told you that a poem of mine was worth, at least, a dollar.

He has a literary taste Which marks an education At every point much higher than The Hellier elevation!

The young man that made the remark that Col. Lampton's poem was worth a $1 bill, will kindly mail it to him. He Needs It. —Harry Cohen.

He stepped on the track just in front of the train, and the engineer did everything possible to prevent hitting him, but the train was too near.

The people of Pikeville, as usual, did everything in their power to help soften the blow to the bereaved family, there being a wife and six small children left to mourn his loss.
